undertile heating

ceramic, porcelain, terracotta, stone, slate, marble or wood undertile heating makes your tiled floor feel as great as it looks! In fact, it enhances the appearance of the whole room, because there is no ugly hardware in sight. If it wasn't for the lovely warm feeling in the room, you would never know it had been fitted.

The small diameter heating elements are available in a number of different lengths and wattages, with a solution for virtually every floor. They are laid between the tiles and the substrate, so they're out of sight. Even more importantly, especially in wet areas such as bathrooms, they're safely out of reach. So, not only can you walk barefoot across the tiles in complete comfort, no matter what the season, you can also rest easy.

With underfloor heating, your floor warms the entire room, gently, safely and efficiently. Radiant heat is recommended by health professionals, especially for asthma sufferers.

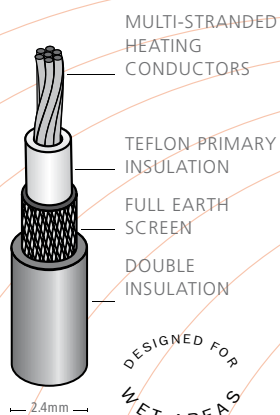

Manufactured at WARMUP's own production facility, WARMUP undertile heaters are a result of more than two decades of advanced research and development. WARMUP brings you a new dimension in affordable, luxurious, effective heating which is simple to operate and maintenance-free.

Simply set your thermostat to the desired comfort level and feel the luxurious warmth...
